“ Big Jim, we will miss you so much. We are so glad we met via Family Connections. You quietly lived by being always "Humble & Kind". This was the theme song of a Country Husband and Wife Duo...Joey & Rory. Joey was the wife, Rory a songwriter. They were very Christian and so were you by how you acted and did so many things to better the Community.
God Bless You.

“ To Jim's family and friends,
Our deepest sympathies. Such a civic role model for others, committed to his family, friends, town and country in a humble way. We appreciate all the hard work in the Fallen Heroes Project, and all the other works as well, truly the best one we've seen.! The train whistle will have a different meaning now- you've made the last call to board your train to heaven. God speed, peace and mercy.
Dave will miss exchanging waves at the gym, goodies too and hellos at church.

Peace,

“ Jim, we never actually met, but that didn't stop developing a friendship. We shared life's wisdom, wit, and lessons. In recent months we shared prayers. You were, in the words of Louis L'amour, "a man to ride the river with." Godspeed, amigo! Grace and peace to your awesome family.
