“ God bless Miss Curtin!
She was a good teacher and a wonderful woman. We stayed in touch and talked on the phone for many years.
She was always so kind.
God bless her.

“ Dear Elinor and my father, Thomas St.John grew up next door to each other during the '20's, through the Depression and were always very close as cousins- more like sister and brother. Elinor was so intelligent and on top of all current situations - in the world, as well as in the lives for those whom she cared for. Elinor was sweet and kind, but also had a lot of spunk and and was always a joy to converse with. Her sparkling personality always came through, even while speaking with her on the phone. As a little girl, whenever I arrived from out of state to my grandmother's, Elinor said I would run immediately next door to visit with she and her mother, "Aunt Hi" (Helen Curtin). Elinor Anne was always so good to me, and to my family. I will miss the engaging conversations, and all the good energy that she put forth. I know that she was a great teacher and an exceptional lady. With Love, Lorraine St.John,

“ My condolences to the family of Elinor . I spent my first few years of teaching with Elinor. We worked in classrooms next door to one another and lived in the same apartment complex in Lee. Elinor and I spent many days talking about school and life. What a lovely woman and school friend.
