“ I was sorry to read about George in the paper this morning; the world has lost a terrific guy. I'll always remember him turning the sound down on the guy's TV next to him at the Commons...it was great...and was George through and through. I'm sure that right now, in some gorgeous hunting camp in the sky, a conversation is taking place:

George: "I'm not going out there today - it's raining too hard. Let 'em run"

Tom: "No sh*t, hey..."

RIP George...you will be missed.

“ My condolences to my cousins and Aunt Gloria. In later years, I didn't have an opportunity to see Uncle George very much, but growing up, I have very fond memories of him. He and my Dad, always talking about the camp, fishing & hunting. He was very nice to me whenever he visited our house. As a kid I remember his smile and his dark curly hair. (My Dad didn't get that!)
