“ I worked with Gerry at Construction Drilling. He was often the oldest guy on the job site and ALWAYS the hardest worker! When I went on the road it was awesome if I found out Gerry was on the same job. He was great to work with and great to hang out with after. I had the pleasure of running into Gerry a couple years ago at Bounti Fare and talked about old times. He was a wonderful man and kind soul. My sincere condolences to the family.
