“ My condolences to Mr. Horn's family and friends. I grew up in Washington, MA and Harry Horn was my mailman throughout my entire childhood. It was always a treat to see him in his mailtruck pulling up to drop off/pick up our mail. This was back in the day when people actually wrote letters to one another and you only 'went into town' once a week... So having the 'world' come to your mailbox daily was pretty spectacular. Harry Horn was such a "GREAT" mailman. He was so cheerful, had the best smile, always capped off with a wave. He was so super kind!! He lived down the road from my uncle/aunt's apple orchard and any time I rode by on my way to the orchard, I would say "Hi, Harry Horn!" and my heart would smile. Just thinking about all his years serving the hilltowns esp. during the crazy, hard winters we had back then, all that mileage and harrowing treks on all those back country roads consumed by the mighty snowfalls/snowbanks and icy mix in those windy, freezing cold, high elevations -- cells phones didn't exist! And after a full day on the job he still had to drive back home to Adams. A brave/good man, a life of service... Harry Horn (thank you) you were 'simply the best' and you will never be forgotten!!
