“Peggy, I miss you terribly! Of course I do. We have been a team for a long time. I tried to shelter you from every storm. I hope I succeeded. This last storm was the hardest. I sheltered you but I couldn't save you. It was your time to begin your journey onto everlasting peace. I had to let you go. Though I knew you were so afraid to leave, I tried to reassure you that this journey would be different, like none other you've had and I'm sure it was. I will always remember you with fondness and love and remember our many talks and laughs along the way. Though my heart is heavy, I am thankful you are finally at peace and with your loved ones. There is no doubt you were welcomed with open arms as I told you you would be. Rest in peace Peggy. I miss you. I love you.

“Dear Peggy You were not cut from the same cloth as most people. You had style and poise that were uniquely yours, with views on travel and life that made you a truly interesting person. Your love for her parents was so clear deep and abiding. Over the years, amid many challenges, you retained your strong character. Throughout your life, you showed how to live with grace and dignity, and hold on to those regardless of the circumstances. I wish you peace and continued grace. Ed
