“ Kayla, You may not remember us. You were around 5 when we first met you. We hung around your mom and dad and played volleyball with the rest of our friends. We are deeply so sorry for your loss. There truly are no words. We hope in time, you all will begin to heal. Just know that as there is a place in Heaven do us all, Noah will always have a place in your heart and your memories. Prayers to all that are affected by this loss.

“ I wish I knew Noah better but his smile and obvious love for Kayla will forever be in my memory. Like the day I first met Noah at the 7/11 in Adams and Kayla had him held up on her hip like he was a baby but clearly too big to be one. That's what moms do. Love them with all our might. Kayla will forever be a terrific mother and a wonderful person.

“ Kayla and Family, Nothing I can say can ease the pain. All I can do is show my support for you at this time. I will always remember Noah's smile. That boy ALWAYS!! had a smile on his face whenever I saw him at the games. He was a delight to watch. If you ever need someone I will always be here to listen or to cry with. Much love to You. Fly High, little buddy! Play ball up in heaven!!

“ Kayla, I simply don't know what to say except that I have been thinking about you and your little boy constantly. I don't know you but I'm a mommy. My son is 11 and also loves Minecraft and Pokémon. I can't imagine what you are going through. My heart aches for you. Your boy was clearly the center of your world and I'm so so unbelievably sorry for your loss. I'm sending so much love to you and your family.

“ It is so painful to lose anyone, especially a young man like this precious family member to you all. Another lady has (is) experienced the very same thing, 5 years ago at our church. She was a single mom. Her heart still hurts so dearly for her young man who was the same age as Noah. My heartfelt sympathies to everyone, as I did not know Noah. But I know and love his grandma Lynn P. Tower. Many prayers and love are sent your way during these hard days you are facing this coming week. God's peace can hold you until you can grieve, as it will take a lifetime. Now it seems it can never get better, the pain you feel. Yet, joy comes in the morning....after a time of deep sorrow. Praying.
