“ My condolences to the family and friends. I was a student at Commercial Street School in the 1950s and, like many, have very happy memories of Mr. DeCoigne (as the teachers insisted we address him). To us kids, he was always simply Benny, the very kind man who always had time for everyone. He made a very positive impression on many of us: interesting, funny, and exceedingly kind. He set a great example for how to deal with young energetic kids, and I dare say that a very large number of us remember him very fondly. A life well lived and more influential than one might guess. A salute to one of my first friends!

“ David, you may remember me as a classmate in HVHS's class of 1971. My condolences to you and your family on your father's passing. Your dad was an incredibly positive influence on an entire generation of baby boomers who passed through Commercial Street School. You couldn't have asked for a better male role model in an era when nearly all elementary school teachers were women. He made every kid feel special, myself included, and I have fond memories of him sharing his WWII photo albums with me. He was an extraordinary person who brought a lot of dedication and joy to his work, and knowing him as a child was a daily lesson in kindness and grace. Truly a life lived well.

“ Living next door to the Commercial Street school as well as being a student there, I can't remember how many times he chased us off the school lawn when we were playing ball. He really cared about that school. I can remember hanging around the school with him during PTA Meetings. You will not see that kind of dedication again.
