“ I worked with Terry at Berkshire Medical Center and no one could make me laugh like her. She was always upbeat with a funny sarcastic quip for everything. I know she is making everyone laugh in Heaven as she made us laugh here on earth. So sorry for the family loss. She was a special lady.

“ I first met Terry in kindergarten at Notre Dame, and we became neighborhood friends bc I lived around the corner on Commercial St. We walked home from school everyday, complaining about the nuns, homework assignments or other classmates. We had the same sense of humor and she could crack me up! We ran in different circles at HV, but we kept up an easy banter on the bus and when we'd be in the same social situation. There was always a lot of "remember when" such as making Pom poms at my house for our ice skates, then freezing at Russell Field rink. We always hated or loved the same nuns.

I remember how devastated she was when Moe died. He was always the pesky little brother but she loved him deeply.

I moved away but would run into her at the bank or pharmacy, and we'd catch up. Terry was immensely proud of her kids and grand kids, and her face would light up talking about them.

I know she suffered greatly these last few years, but I admired her bravery. All her life she was bold and brave. I know she's at peace now, and I pray that you all can be too. Sorry I can't get to her services. May she rest in peace, reunited with her parents & Moe. My condolences to all.
